

Catherine Dé' Médici

NWC voyageur
Antoine Bruneau

Cree
♀

Métis
Hon. François Jacques Bruneau

Thomas Stanislaus Bruneau

Darcy John Bouchard, li Exõuile

Adalrich aka Eticho
Duke of Alsace
founder of the family of the Etichonids and of the Habsburg seventh-century Austrasia, homeland of the Franks

Bouchard d'Orléans (Montmorency)

House of Montmorency

Bouchard I de Bray, seigneur de Montmorency
Chief General of the naval forces that Charlemagne sent against Italy
Grand Marshall (chief of armies) and constant companion of Charlemagne in his wars with the Spaniards

Bouchard II le Barbu (the Bearded) de Bray, seigneur de Montmorency

Richard I "The Fearless"
Duke of Normandy

Gertrude de Neslé
Dame de Soissons

Mathieu Bouchard Hervé de Montmorency
seigneur de Montmorency, de Marly, d'Attichy & de Conflans

Bouchard IV
Baron de Montmorency

Mathieu II "le Grand" de Montmorency
Grand Sire

Bouchard VI de Montmorency

Guillaume I de Montmorency
Baron de Montmorency

Huguenot
Marshal of France
Gaspard I
comte de Coligny
Seigneur de Châtillon

Louise Marie de Montmorency

German-Swiss

Huguenot Martyr
Nicholas Mius de Gryn

Beatrice Escalona Pacheco
(Bacheoc)

Jeanne de Montmorency

Claude Antoine Mius de Meillon de Montmuran
Sieur d'Albon

Jacqueline de Montbel d'Entremont

Huguenot Martyr
Admiral
Gaspard II de Coligny
Seigneur de Châtillon

A close friend and advisor to King Charles IX of France.

Beatrice d'Entremont de Coligny

(François-Birgine) "Philippe I" Mius d'Entremont

Louise de Coligny

Prince
Philip William of Orange
Knight of the Golden Fleece

Dutch Lutheran

Willem I "The Silent" van Oranje-Nassau

The Royal Blue-Bloodline of Darcy John Bouchard, li Exõuile

44 indirect generations between li Exõuile and HRE Charlemagne

Dedicated to Mo Bou - R.I.P.

© 23 01 2017 Darcy John Bouchard, li Exõuile

Fornjot "The Ancient Giant" Jotne
Mythological King of Kvenland
An ancient name for an area in Fennoscandia and Scandinavia.

Sea Kings

Gange-Hrólfr "Rollo" of Normandy
A Viking who became the first ruler of Normandy

Guillaume 'le Conquérant' FitzRobert
Duc de Normandie, Roi d'Angleterre
(King William the Conqueror of England)

Henry I "Beauclerc" aka Hendrik I van Engeland
King of England

illegitimate
Alix FitzRoy
Princess of England

Saint Arnoul
Bishop of Metz

Sainte Clotilde
Dode of Metz

Charles Martel "the Hammer"
"maior domus of Austrasia"

The Frankish realm under Charles Martel was the foremost military power of Western Europe.

Carolus Magnus
Rex Francorum & Imperator Romanorum

King of the Franks from AD 768-to-814
Emperor of the Romans from AD 800-to-814

Holy Roman Emperor Charlemagne

Hughes Capet

Judith
Countess of Flanders

illegitimate
Réginald FitzRoy de de Dunstanville
1st Earl of Cornwall

Emma de Cornouailles

illegitimate
Emma Guyon FitzRoy

House of Laval
Guy de Laval
Sire de Laval IV

First King of the Franks of the House of Capet
He succeeded the last Carolingian king, Louis V.

Guy V
Seigneur de Laval

Havoise de Craon

Amaury I de Craon

Emma de Laval

Guy VII de Montmorency
Seigneur de Laval

Guy VIII de Laval
conte di Caserta

Guy IX de Montmorency-Laval
conte di Caserta

André de Laval

Guy II de Montmorency-Laval
Baron de Rais

Gilles de Montmorency-Laval
Baron de Rais

Companion-in-arms to Sainte Jehanne d'Arc la Pucelle d'Orléans.

Saint François Montmorency-Laval
First Roman Catholic Bishop of Québec.
Founder of the Séminaire de Québec

Gilles de Rais, heir to a family fortune that included several castles in the west of France, married Catherine de Thouars, a rich heiress who kept a more lavish estate than the king. He served as a lieutenant in Ste.-Jehanne d'Arc's private guard and fought by her side during the sieges of Orléans and Paris.

He was falsely accused of sorcery and the mass-murder of hundreds of children by elements within the Church as part of an ecclesiastic plot or act of revenge, with the Duke of Brittany giving permission to prosecute Gilles de Rais and receiving his lands after the conviction. Title to the lands was ultimately transferred to the Duke, who in turn divided them among his nobles.

He was executed with his bodyservants Poitou and Henriette by hanging and burning at 9:00 a.m., Wednesday 26 October 1440.

